- b. Purpose of referral (what all services to be provided to patient)
- c. Sign of the referring doctor
- d. Stamp of the referring doctor showing name, qualification, and registration number

29. Does the referral slip mention the details of HCO, where services can be availed using referral ID?

The referral slip does not mention the details of the referred HCO. Beneficiary may avail health services at any of the empanelled HCOs as per their choice.

30. What is the validity period of the referral?

The validity referral letter varies as per the kind of referral given. For investigations and consultations, it is valid for a period of one month. It may be valid up to 3 months too, if specified by the treating specialist. For procedures, it is valid up to 3 months. In cases like dialysis, chemotherapy it is valid up to 6 months.

31. Will beneficiaries get services in the HCOs without referral?

The beneficiaries will not get health services in the HCOs without referral; except in case of medical emergency or in case of OPD consultations and listed procedures for beneficiaries aged 75 years and above.

32. What if beneficiary has lost the referral slip?

Beneficiary will need to get a fresh referral letter for uploading the scanned copy and entering the referral details manually on the TMS portal. Without referral, beneficiary will not be able to avail cashless healthcare services in empanelled HCO.

33. How many times CAPF beneficiaries can consult specialists at private empaneled HCO?

Beneficiary can consult up to three different specialists in the same HCO and total 9 consultation can be availed in one referral letter. The allowance for 3 different specialties needs to be mentioned on the referral slip.

34. Can beneficiary use referral slip multiple times?

Yes, provided the services mentioned in the referral letter have not been utilized fully and validity period is active.

35. If multistage treatment required, does beneficiary need to get separate referral for each treatment stage?

No, same referral letter can be utilized if validity period is active.

36. What if the validity of referral letter has expired before completing all the stage of treatment?

Beneficiary needs to get a new referral letter in such case.

37. Does beneficiary need to submit the original referral letter to treating HCOs?

No, HCO will keep a scan copy of the same for uploading on the TMS portal.

Discharge

38. Who performs the activities related to discharge in TMS?

Medco performs the discharge related activities in the system that include updating of discharge date, updating amount of drug and consumable (wherever applicable), uploading all the documents in the system etc.

39. How will medicines at discharge be covered for?

CAPF follows the CGHS guidelines wherein a capped amount of maximum INR 2000 is allowed. The medicines issued are covered by CGHS when provided for maximum of 7 days. If prescription of lesser duration is provided, the latter will be considered. Only the essential medicines will be considered by CGHS- No vitamins, tonics, cough syrup, injections nutritional supplements and other non-essential ones are considered. This covers discharge from all possible episodes of care- conservative management as well as HCO stay for surgery.

Grievance related

40. What are the cases under which a beneficiary may raise a grievance?

As on date, Ayushman CAPF scheme has been rolled out across the country in CGHS empanelled private hospitals which have signed MoU with NHA, and all private hospitals empanelled under AB PM-JAY scheme. Beneficiary, if need be, may raise a grievance in following cases:

- 1) If the empanelled private HCO is refusing to provide services as per the CAPF guidelines
- 2) If the empanelled private HCO is asking for payment for cashless services
- 3) Any other relevant issues related to admission, treatment, etc.

41. How can a beneficiary raise a grievance?

For raising the grievance against CGHS empanelled hospitals, beneficiary may contact CGHS wellness centres nearby or their own wellness centres or AD-CGHS office. Wellness centres may get the grievance resolved by contacting the respective AD-CGHS. However, grievances related to eligibility under the scheme may be handled by the respective forces.

For grievance against private hospitals empanelled under AB PM-JAY scheme, beneficiary may visit <https://cgrms.pmjay.gov.in/GRMS/loginnew.htm> portal to raise the grievance

For more information, beneficiaries may call on toll-free helpline number 14588.
